

PYXIS PARTNERS
PATHWAYS TO PROGRESS

Karenna Barton - Intern

Karenna is a senior at the University of Maryland studying Public Health Sciences. She is expected to graduate in May of 2023. Through her previous work as a medical scribe, Karenna has witnessed inequities in healthcare and was drawn to Pyxis Partners' commitment to progressing the United States health system. She was inspired by the mission of Pyxis to promote positive change through advocacy, engagement, and health policy. In her free time, Karenna enjoys taking walks around campus, reading, and baking.