

PYXIS PARTNERS
PATHWAYS TO PROGRESS

Brianna Dean - Intern

Brianna Dean currently matriculates at Georgetown University as a Master of Science candidate for the Health and Public Interest program. She will be graduating in the spring of 2023. As a health politics enthusiast, Pyxis Partners' unique intersection between advocacy, engagement, and health policy drew Ms. Dean to apply. When she is not studying, one of her favorite ways to spend her free time is reading. Brianna even started a local book club to dissect and discuss various topics and themes in literature.
