PATHWAYS TO PROGRESS

Hailey Waldman – Intern

Hailey is a rising senior at George Washington University. She is majoring in public health with minors in business and public administration, and is expected to graduate in May 2023. She is also enrolled in a joint B.S./MPH program concentrating in health policy and is expected to graduate with her Masters in May 2024. Hailey was drawn to Pyxis because of its vision to create an affordable health system for everyone in the U.S. Outside of her classes, Hailey is a yoga teacher and teaches at her campus gym!
