

PYXISPARTNERS
PATHWAYS TO PROGRESS

Elizabeth Bradford – Senior Associate

As a Senior Associate at Pyxis Partners, Elizabeth champions engagement efforts for the National Institute of Health's All of Us Research Program.

Prior to her work with Pyxis Partners, Elizabeth was the Community Engagement Manager at Rise Against Hunger, where she was responsible for stakeholder engagement, event management and facilitation and program development. She's led and developed innovate program designs in both corporate and non-profit arenas.

Equipped with a BS in Family and Consumer Science from Tennessee State University, and a MS in Environmental Nutrition from The University of Memphis, Elizabeth attributes her business acumen in part to her ability to quickly build sustainable relationships. As an advocate for health equity, her passion meets at the intersection of engagement and impact.

Elizabeth is a native Memphian, currently residing in the DMV area. Her free time consists of nature excursions, vegetable gardening and introductory sewing.
